POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Women have earned their spurs in California's war industries and are not only heading toward complete equality with men in rates of pay, but may soon be working the same hours as men in an all-out contribution toward winning the Battle of Production!

That, briefly stated, is the story of the revolutionary, war-time change in the business and industrial status of women, revealed in legislation affecting "women's rights" which has been introduced at the current session of the State Legislature.

Women's legislation at the 1943 session, has lost its "protective" characteristics—and many of the bills frankly ask that women be granted the right to work under the same conditions as men for the duration of the war, with no favos asked and no emphasis on sex.

Perhaps the most striking evidence that women have made good on their war job—and that their services are desired and desperately needed—is found in a bill which suspend the operation of the women's eight hour law during the war period and permit them to put in the same numbe of hours as men. Before Pearl Harbor, that bill would have been bitterly opposed by women's organizations, but at this session it will probably have their whole-hearted support.

The manpower problem has come to the fore in many other bills and promises to become one of the dominant issues of the present legislative session. Senators Bradford S. Crittenden of Stockton and George J. Hatfield of Merced county, seeking a continuing effort to help farmers in meeting the farm labor shortage, have asked the creation of a legislative committee, composed of four members of each house, to press negotiations with Federal military and manpower authorities for supplementing the present supply of farm workers.

Tackling another phase of the labor shortage problem, Assemblyman Alfred W. Robertson of Santa Barbara and Frank J. Waters of Los Angeles have co-authored a bill to suspend operation of the Full Crew Law for the duration, so that railroad trains in California can operate with two or three brakemen, as in other states, instead of six or seven.

"We can't afford to waste man-power during the war crisis," said Assemblyman Robertson. "and our trains have to move out on time, if food and equipment are to be gotten to our military forces. Scores of trains have been held up for hours during recent months due to a shortage of brakemen. This bill will help to break that bottleneck."

From present indications, virtually all of the manpower legislation — that affecting women, as well as men—is due for quick enactment when the Legislature reconvenes after the recess. This Legislature had donned its war boots and there's very little temporizing, when the war effort is involved.

National Boy Scout Week to Be Observed Here

"Praise the Lord—and pass the new edition" is the Junior Red Cross slogan adopted by Boy Scout Troop 29 of St. Lucy's during its book collection campaign starting Saturday, Feb. 6.

Book collecting for the armed forces is part of the work of this group in aiding the National Victory Book campaign during National Scout Week from Feb. 6 to Feb. 13.

Books preferred by the army and navy boys are: 1—current best-sellers; 2—adventure, western, detective and mystery stories; 3—technical books; 4—books of humor; 5—pocket book editions.

Books may be left at Gilson's Meat market or phone Budd Levenberg, Campbell 3785; Merrill Grim, Campbell 3760 or Ralph Bogner, Campbell 3941, and the books will be called for.

The Scouts of troop 29 are to be divided into groups and a house to house canvass will also be made. Books in good physical condition are needed—worn out books are useless. This is not an excuse to clean the attic, states Scout executives, and books offered should be of such value that the donor feels he has made a real sacrifice, at the same time adding greatly to the enjoment of the boys in service.

Ribble House Out of Danger

The damage to the district of Del Patio by the Los Gatos creek created much concern in Campbell last week. Large sections of ground toppled into the creek.

The chief concern centered on the home of the David Ribbles which was all but undermined, the ground having washed away up to the steps.

In the midst of the rain the furnishings of the house were moved out and after the storm subsided the house was moved to a spot further from the creek bank.

The Footlighters Work On Play

Just when, where and why these plays will be put before the public is an issue to be decided at their next regular monthly meeting which is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Feb. 9. As has been the happy procedure of the club since its meetings resumed in the fall, a pot luck supper is the bright spot of each evening meeting.

A food sale, sponsored by the Sigma Sigmas will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning at Field's store. Proceeds are for the organ fund.

WAR'S FORGOTTEN MAN

There are many tragedies born of war—and not all of them are enacted on the battlefield. When we read that "one of our aircraft is missing," we get the full impact of personal tragedy. Some brave lad, full of the zest of living, has made the supreme sacrifice—and in some American home, there is sorrow and heartbreak. But the "little tragedies" of war, which are often cumulative and may become major catastrophies, go on all around us and often unnoted unless we are personally involved or affected.

The small business man, perhaps more than any other is the "forgotten man" of this war. But he is being killed by inaction, by government confusion and inattention, rather than by gunfire, and his end is as unspectacular as the vacant store window which marks it. Possibly that is why so little had been done to provide him with any defense against all the conditions which are crowding him to the wall.

In its report to the Legislature, just filed, the Senate Interim Committee on Economic Planning, directs attention to the grave seriousness of this problem in California by announcing that 19,000 small businesses in this state went out of business in the first 10 months of 1942 and that "casualties will be higher from now on because before the year is out there will be very few articles of common use unaffected by war limitations."

We do not concur, however, in Secretary Ickes' view, as expressed during his testimony before the Senate Small Business committee in Washington that the plight of the small business man is due mainly to the fact that big corporations are getting the bulk of the government's war contracts. That is a factor, undoubtedly, but only one. Many merchants cannot get goods for their shelves; many cannot operate under present price ceilings; many have been throttled by stupid government regulations. It's about time that somebody thought about the problems of the small business man seriously and did something to clear up the conflicts and confusions which are surely strangling him. And we hope that both the Legislature and Congress will stay with the job until they get remedial action. If the small business man goes down, we all go down—and it won't profit us much to win a war, if we permit the foundations of our country to be destroyed while we are engaged in it.

LAST CALL FOR AUTO LICENSES

If you haven't applied for your 1943 auto license yet, it's high time you did so, according to Gordon Garland, new director of the State Motor Vehicle Department, for the renewal period expires at midnight of Feb. 4 and tardy applicants will be penalized by double registration fees and a 50 per cent increase in their vehicle license fees. This year, Mr. Garland reports, motorists have been unusually slow in renewing their registrations and there will be thousands of delinquencies unless late-comers get busy and mail in their applications during the next few days. Figuratively, at least, the time has come for autoists to step on the gas!

MARCH OF DIMES

The dimes, clinking all over the nation this week, express constructively our recognition of the need for preventive and curative measures for disease. Money spent for the relief of suffering—especially for children—could not be better spent.

Our President's staunch overruling of the effects of infantile paralysis, his fine health in face of the nation's crisis, should encourage many. Our dimes honor his courage while they aid medical research.

AS YE SOW, SO SHALL YE EAT!

The Victory Gardener may get blisters on his hands and a kink in his back—and he is almost certain to take some good-natured ribbing from his friends and neighbors—but during the spring and summer, his dinner table is quite likely to be the envy of the neighborhood. The shortage of vegetables and berries and fruits during the coming season, according to all reliable surveys, will be much more acute than that of last year—and many vegetables, due to the lack of labor and the fact that farmers have been asked to devote their acreage to staples, simply won't be on the market.

A war garden isn't a fad; it is a practical contribution to relief of the manpower and food shortage problems—and practical insurance that your family dinner table will have an abundance of good food, despite rationing and other war-time restrictions. The Victory Gardeners might well adopt the slogan: "As ye sow, so shall ye eat!" From present indications, it may prove to be the literal truth.

TWO MILES OF COPPER WIRE FOR ~~TELEPHONE LINES~~

America needs bombers by the thousands and bombers need copper wire—about two miles of it to a plane. All critical materials like copper must go for war weapons—they are no longer available for new telephone equipment—bombers and tanks and ships and guns and shells come first.

And war calls come first on the telephone lines! Just to build one bomber takes about 12,000 telephone calls. Building thousands of planes, hundreds of ships . . . moving men and supplies . . . causes a flood of calls on the existing telephone lines that is the greatest in history.

To keep the lines open for war calls, we need your help. To war-busy centers, please make only calls that are essential.

Your understanding and your assistance are deeply appreciated.

THE BOOK MARK
by marty

"Bombs Away. The Story of a Bomber Team." by John Steinbeck.

Mr. Steinbeck wrote this book for the U. S. Army Air Forces.

There are 60 photographs that illustrate the book taken by John Swope who is a flier. It is said that all royalties of author and photographer as well as publishing profits, will go to the Air Forces Aid Society Trust Fund. This fund is perpetual (Army and Navy relief ends six months after the war) and will provide emergency aid for the families of fliers lost in the line of duty. Proceeds from the motion picture, already sold for $250,000 also go to the trust fund.

It is said that Mr. Steinbeck wrote this book for the U. S. Army Air Forces, but the author says that he wrote it under the supervision of the Air Forces, but that it is for everyone who has ever wondered at the regal flight of the Flying Fortresses.

He wrote it for our boys who will enter the air force and for the mothers and fathers and relatives and friends of all who fly.

In this book, Mr. Steinbeck presents to his readers an outline of training that each members of the bomber team must go through before he is ready to take up his position, as a navigator, a gunner, bombardier, crew chief, radio man and pilot, the six jobs that combine to make the bomber crew. He does not drag you through endless technical terms while the gunner is being trained, nor does he tire you out with huge, cumbersome words to emphasize the importance of any one position of the crew as he writes about each member's training. The author has, through his skillful technique with words, created a work of literature, simple in its presentation, and as powerful in its soul-stirring theme as the graceful bomber itself, sliding through the clouds of blue and white on a mission of death and destruction.

War Stamp Sales Over Half Billion Dollars, Album Drive Opens

U. S. Treasury photo

Appealing Margaret C. Russell of the War Savings Staff tacks up this new Treasury poster which will be seen from coast to coast. It pictures retailers' slogan, "SAY YES." A drive is underway for Americans to buy additional War Stamps to fill albums and convert them into War Bonds.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The nation's retailers from the tiniest hamlets to the mighty cities are acting as a spearhead in a great Treasury Department campaign to sell the additional War Savings Stamps needed to fill more than 100,000,000 albums now in the hands of the American people.

According to a report released by the Treasury Department today, sales of War Savings Stamps totaled $559,777,000 for the period from May 1, 1941, through November, 1942.

Stamp sales have risen from less than three million dollars per month when they were first introduced to the public to an average of more than fifty million dollars per month at the present time.

The Treasury's slogan, "A half-filled album is like a half-equipped soldier," has been adopted officially by retailers for the campaign.

The importance of the drive is seen in the fact that a War Bond potential of nearly two billion dollars hangs in the balance.

Every War Stamp album, converted into a People's Bond, for which the purchaser pays $18.75 and which matures to $25.00 value when held for 10 years, adds its force to the war effort.

The Treasury Department is counting upon the country's school children to play a powerful role in the success of the SAY YES drive. The volume of stamp and bond sales is at the rate of $200,000,000 for the current school year.

THE MANSE
Campbell

Dear Editor:

It is a matter of great interest to many of us to read the letters which Miss Ruth Cowles has sent to her mother from Africa, and which letters you have published in the Campbell Press. Miss Cowles was a member of the Congregational church Sunday school of Campbell and we are justly proud of her great service to the children of Africa.

Next Sunday at 6:30 p. m. we are to have another great African missionary-physician at the Congregational church, Dr. Mary F. Cushman, whose distinguished work in Africa is so well known. She will speak in connection with the Pilgrim Youth Fellowship rally about 6:30. The youth of the county will meet at 5 p. m. for a box lunch and then will hear Dr. Cushman. Adults are cordially invited to attend.

Launching Party Held at Richmond

At the launching of another Victory ship last Sunday, Jan. 24, the Kaiser yards at Richmond decided to honor the hospital service. Consequently Dr. Cecil C. Cutting, head surgeon of the Permanente Foundation hospital in Oakland, was permitted to pull the trigger that released the great ship, and his wife, Mildred Cutting, broke the bottle of champagne upon the bow and christened the vessel. The first hit failed to break the bottle, but as the boat moved slowly off, she got in a second crack that finished the job, and so the imposing ship went properly down the ways.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cutting, Dr. Windsor C. Cutting, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rignell were among those who attended the ceremonies. The visitors were soon requested to make way for a great crane that began moving in to lay down the keel of another ship for victory.

Social Security Facts Given at Kiwanis Meeting

A. L. Benelisha, acting manager of the United States social security board at San Jose in a short address to the Kiwanis club Tuesday gave his hearers a fund of valuable information. He stated that there are approximately 88,000,000 social security accounts in this country. In touching upon many phases of the subject he said that there is at present agitation for enlarging the scope of social security.

Martin Walsh was presented with a two year perfect attendance tab.

Ira Grim was chairman of this meeting.

Next Tuesday Dr. Earl Campbell of San Jose State college faculty will discuss "Conditions in the Northwest," with Dr. W. R. Morgan chairman.

Speeder Pleads Not Guilty

Charles F. Hinman, 25, of Winchester road, a service station operator was arrested Friday by San Jose Policeman Floyd E. Keunis. Keunis charged Hinman with driving 40 miles per hour in a 20 mile zone, but Hinman refused to sign the traffic tag as he said he was then on private property as he had driven into a service station.

Brought before Police Judge Percy O'Connor he pleaded innocent at Monday's trial. The judge took the case under advisement while he made an "investigation."

Ballet Theatre Comes to San Jose Monday, Feb. 1

On next Monday, Feb. 1, it is anticipated that the civic auditorium, San Jose, will be packed to capacity with audience for the long-awaited Russian Ballet Theatre. The Ballet comes with its company of 125 and symphony orchestra with performances exactly as given in the San Francisco Opera House this last week.

"Bluebeard," to music of Offenbach; "Peter and the Wolf," to music of Prokofieff; and either "Princess Aurora," to music of Tschaikowsky, or "Pas de Quatre," to music of Pugini, will make the program.

Among the many beautiful ballerinas will be seen the American Karen Conrad, who has the highest leaps of any ballerina. She was born and educated in Philadelphia, and became a member of the Littlefield Ballet, with which she danced in the United States and Europe. Karen also has a fine flair for comedy which has outlet in the Ballet Theatre, which is full of drama and humor.

Monday night's performance begins at 8:15.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Credit for Dependents.

A taxpayer is entitled to a credit for each person other than husband or wife, whether related to him or not, and whether living with him or not, who during the taxable year was dependent upon and received his chief support from the taxpayer, provided the dependent was either (a) under 18 years of age, or (b) incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The taxpayer must have provided more than one-half of the support, or there is no dependency.

The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only those who are mentally afflicted and physically crippled, but also persons, who, by reason of old age or impaired health, are incapable of self-support.

A person may not acquire a credit for dependent by reason of support of a person qualifying as a dependent if, as a result of such support, he acquires a head of family exemption, but may acquire a credit for dependent by reason of additional persons qualifying as dependents, whom he supports.

Credit for dependents may not be divided between two persons filing separate returns, but must be taken by the one contributing the chief support.

The credit for dependent, allowable to a taxpayer filing on Form 1040, is $350, and is proportionate with the number of months of dependency. Thus, for a child born on July 1, the credit allowable would be $175(for six months), and if a child became 18 years of age on July 1 the credit allowable would be $175. One-half a month or less is not counted as a month; more than one-half a month is counted as a month in calculating the credit.

A credit of $385 for each dependent on July 1 of the year is allowable to a taxpayer using Simplified Form 1040A.

Continuing Letters From Ruth Cowles

August 3, 1942

As the combat deepens all about us, you all seem removed ten times further away than ever before. After weeks without one word, two letters from you, Mother, have filtered through at last! And I feel most deeply grateful that we can still hear from each other.

At this jucture I got up to see if the ambulance had come for a very sick man. This letter has had forty-leven interruptions so far.

Sister Hagermann is working in well and is a dear. Our last two groups of medical students have been fine and it makes things so much easier if that is so. Since I am now nursing superintendent I don't do so much work in the clinic. It is the ordering of supplies, dealing with helpers, planning schedules for ten nurses, teas for medical students, rations and blind pensions for the poor, reports, acting as hostess to visitors, ets., etc., that take up my time, not to mention district follow-up work of patients who are critically ill. There have been some such terribly sad things happen lately, I think that I shall have to indulge in an antidote. Petrol rationing makes it difficult for me to get away from the Township. Rest, just now, does not mean inactivity but a change of scene, I find. One of my best methods of rest is to go into my kitchen and do some baking, or make doughnuts. I have made the latter twice lately, for one of the medical students brought me about four pounds of white flour. It has been a very great treat. I wonder how much folks in the U. S. A. are being restricted in food-stuffs. We feel it most in white flour. As I write I am baking two loaves of "Pauline's bread" for the new batch of medical students who come tomorrow. They all love this bread with tea and it is so easy to make and so patriotic in ingredients that I make it fairly often with Boer's meal (graham flour), mealie meal (cornmeal) and brown sugar (from local sugar mills). I think I will have to charge sinxpence per copy for the recipe for the benefit of our Christmas fund.

If you ever want to know what to send me for Christmas, let it be a doughnut cutter. They can't be had out here except enormous ones.

A group of young ladies, with their teacher from a swell college here in Johannesburg, have just been here to visit the clinic and Alexandra Township. They seemed thrilled with everything, and especially with "Moses and Aaron" our newest twins. After a tour of the Township and a visit to one of the homes, and to the creche across the way, they all had tea up here in my apartment. With the doctors, there were about twenty-four to tea in all. But the girls helped and in no time everyone was chatting over their cups. A number of the schools here are trying to interest their older students in social service of some kind and this is one method of doing it. Another group of girls is coming out from another school about the middle of September. Last week we had a group of nurses who are taking a post-graduate course in the University out here for one day of observation, and with them a lady from Tanganyika. And so it goes! Such a host of visitors rather palls on one once in awhile, but I pull myself up with a jerk to realize that this is an important part of the work. Moreover, the dearness of the notes of appreciation which have followed these visits have been regular refresher courses for me!

Goodnight and a world of love to you each and all and with best wishes for a Christmas and New Year of deep joy! "And now abideth hope" a glorious note also for the beginning of 1943!

Ruth C. Cowles

This is the last of a series of letters written by Miss Cowles to her mother. We hope to be able to print more of these interesting epistles next year.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Working Together

. . . though worlds apart

HANDLING HOT STUFF! That's the wartime job of Jim and his Dad. Jim is overseas on the firing line. Dad is at home keeping the power flowing to vital industries.

Since Pearl Harbor more than one hundred and fifty men of this company each month have gone into the armed forces of Uncle Sam. Many of these are sons of veteran employees.

These Dads are working with grim determination to step up the production of electric power, because that means the production of more war goods. These Dads are doing all they can to make sure that their sons, and all the other sons wearing the uniform, are the best equipped, the best clothed, the best fed men of any military power in the world.

Today the Dads and their fellow workers in the P. G. and E. ranks are delivering a greatly increased amount of power over two years ago. They have a pride in doing it. They have a pride in the equipment with which they work. There are giant powerhouses in the mountains, a vast network of interconnected transmission lines and distribution lines, together with substations, trucks and tools. All these are geared to take on the increasing demands for more power for war production purposes.

California can be confident these men will keep the kilowatts marching steadily on in war work, that the reserves will respond promptly if they are called upon.
